

LIQUID SUNSHINE

Defense Drops™

Immune Support and Overall Health

The immune system is an interactive network of organs, white blood cells and proteins that protect the body from viruses and bacteria or any foreign substance. Our immune system works to protect us daily, and we never notice it. But when the performance of our immune system is compromised, that's when we face illness.

Defense Drops are uniquely formulated with high-potency Vitamin D3, plus Vitamin C, E, B6, Zinc and Echinacea to help support your body's immune response.†

Zinc is the second-most-abundant trace mineral in the human body. It acts like an antioxidant within the body, fighting free-radical damage and helping slow the aging process. †

Vitamin C contributes to immune defense by supporting various cellular functions of both the innate and adaptive immune system.†

Vitamin B6 may help the body produce melatonin, which is an important hormone to help us fall asleep and lack of quality sleep can compromise our immune system.†

Vitamin D3 may have the ability to help strengthen bones and muscles boost immunity, increase mood and aid in weight loss.†

Vitamin E has powerful antioxidant abilities that are key to strong immunity and healthy skin and eyes.†

Echinacea contains powerful antioxidants and other phytonutrients that may help your body defend against foreign invaders.†
